Commencement

Commencement is the beginning of a new year. Old graduates return to receive their diplomas and shut a door behind them as they open a new door in front of them. It is also the beginning for many new girls at Trafalgar. The new girls, just opening the door to Trafalgar, and the returning girls, have a lot to look forward to in the upcoming year. And to start the year off, everyone takes part in this long standing tradition at Trafalgar, Commencement.

Achievements: Librarian. Memories: Knowing so many nice people. My previous roommate, Sophia who has a significant sleeping habit. She always brought from home lots of delicious cookies. Michelle, so cool and funny, has invented lots of neat Chinese words. I had the most wonderful spares in Aliena's room who provided me with music and laughter, and the most unforgettable taking of Flora. Farewell: Thanks for the good times Sophia, Michelle Lee, Judy, Ada, Yvonne, Cindy, Cimmy, Flora, and Shaney gave me. I will treasure the friendship. Good luck to you all!! Hope to see T.C.S. in the future.

Activity Day

On September 28th classes were suspended for a fun-filled day of healthy house competition out-of-doors. After the assembly the whole school ventured out onto the playing field for a giant game of musical chairs, three legged races, limbo contest, waterballoon toss and finding a jelly-bean in a bowl of whipped cream. After lunch we boarded buses in houses and it was off to the Metro Toronto Zoo for the afternoon. After dinner we had the traditional house air band competitions. All in all one of the best activity days ever.

Junior Camping Weekend

Once again, Mrs. Crawford gave up her cottage for the weekend so the juniors could have a camping weekend of their own. The girls played in the lake, on the paddle boats, and ate lots of junk food. I believe the girls had a great time. I'd just like to thank Mrs. and Mr. Crawford for donating their cottage again this year.

Food! Just can't seem to get it down fast enough.

Senior Camping Weekend

The second weekend at school was the senior camping weekend. About 35 of the senior class left early Saturday morning for Camp Oconto. The weekend was a great opportunity for some to get caught up with friends they hadn't seen all summer, and to get to know some of the new girls. Despite the rainy weather we still had time to get the canoes out and go for a quick dip. After dinner we had a talent show and ate lots of junk food. Then it was up on Sunday morning and back to Whitby.

From the President and Vice-President we can honestly say that this year has been.....interesting. It's been great working together with the Athletic Association, with the exception of the great delay of the school sweatshirts. Many thanks to Miss Lichtenburg for driving us to Roy's Enterprise during our many spares.

We certainly won't forget our ten minute A.A. meetings adjourning with the infamous "No problem." Thanks to all the students who gave me the practice of re-writing the athletic calendar by erasing it every time you walked by it.

And thanks to the staff who challenged us to the A.A. relay. It was luck, only luck that the staff won although not by much. All we can say is "wait 'til next year for a re-match."

Thanks to the student body for a successful and exciting year that we will not forget. Best of luck to next year's Athletic Association. I hope you will have as much fun as we did.

God Bless.

Carter House

Carter House may not exactly have done well when it comes to winning this year, but I think we made up for our lack of talent with our tremendous spirit. We always had supporters out to all the house games. I feel Carter was the house that had the most people making an effort and I thank you for that.

Thanks, Nicole

Everyone who participated in the Inter-House events has benefitted. Whether it's by gaining a sense of confidence, or whether it's simply learning how to have fun, these games teach us more than how to win and how to lose. They teach us how to co-operate and work with our friends to achieve a similar goal.

It has meant a lot to me to have been the captain of Hare House. I've enjoyed working with and for every person in our house.

Thank you for your spirit, your enthusiasm and most of all your support.

Farewell House

House captain, to me this used to just an ordinary compound word, but this year has shown me that when you put house and captain together you come up with something far from ordinary. I don't know what I expected from the position or from myself, but I know that what I received was well worth the effort and sometimes pain of trying to lead Farewell House.

Helen, you're the best sub-captain in the world. Your patience and caring have kept me going many times when I felt like everything was going wrong. Thank you.

A special thanks has got to go to Mr. Cleary. From the start of house plays to the end of track and field day he has been a solid part of this house that I could always turn to for advice and encouragement when I needed it most. I just want to say how much I appreciated all his help.

And last but not least, to Farewell House I'd just like to say you've made this year a real experience for me as well as an eye-opener and as far as I'm convinced Farewell is the best!

Thanks guys, love Tudi

During this busy year I have realized how hard and demanding is the position of House Captain. From having 48 people asking me where they are supposed to be and what they signed up for on Spirit Day and Track and Field Day - to dragging people out to house games is quite a way to learn responsibility and leadership. That I have achieved but it could not have been done without the cooperation, dedication and spirit from the rest of the house. I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for giving me the support and the help I have needed in rough times when I felt like giving up. For example the houseplay production, but we pulled it off guys, and the time only one person showed up for a house game. You all deserve a round of applause. I would also like to thank the staff that were on my house especially Mrs. Sigsworth, Mrs. Ruch and Ms. Riches for all they have done for me. A special thanks for my wonderful sub-captain Stephanie for being there to keep the rest of the house in shape when I couldn't. And lastly to my Maxwell House members, thank you for giving me the best year of my life. I will remember how well you strove for the Trafalgar Cup and got it! I love you all.

Love Cyndi

I will always value the memories of the months leading up to the bazaar because it presented a challenge. It was not easy but despite the trials of hard work, Sita and I managed to organize the most successful bazaar under the theme, "Hands Across Our World". Preparation helped me to realize that life is also full of the same responsibilities and hard work no matter what obstacles are out there. We must achieve the goals that we set out to do.

I would like to thank the whole student body for your participation especially the table heads. Special thanks also goes out to Mrs. Bagnall and Mrs. Sigsworth for their time and effort and last but certainly not least, Mrs. Davis for her help and words of encouragement.

To my successor and fellow Trafalgarites I would like to leave you with this quote; "Remember that each road you choose will offer some difficulty. If life were meant to be easy, there would be no challenges and no rainbows."

S.F. Bazaar

Again this year the S.F. Bazaar was a great success thanks to the hard work of the Student Fellowship and its head Nina. This year the S.F. Bazaar raised approximately $3,500 to help our foster children.

House Plays

House plays are one of the many extracurricular events here at T.C.S. The house captains choose a one act play for their house to put on. The plays are produced, directed and acted all by the students. The co-ordinator of the event was Michelle Cameron, head of drama. This year there was a wide range of plays. Carter House chose to do a dramatic court case entitled According to Law by Noel Houston. The play was about a black man on trial in a Southern town for a crime he did not commit. Farewell House put on a comedy about unwanted visitors called So Nice to See You. Hare House who won best play put on an Agatha Christie mystery, The Patient. It was suspenseful to the very end. Maxwell House also did a heavy drama. It was Lilian Helman's The Children's Hour. The evening was very enjoyable with very good acting from the talented students of Trafalgar Castle.

The annual Trafalgar Semi Formal was held on Saturday November 26th. It was a great opportunity to bring your favorite guy and show him around the school and dance the night away as most of our dances are open only to neighbouring boys schools. The music was terrific and the girls (and guys) had a wonderful time. The evening was a great success.

Principal's Message

I would like to begin by thanking the editors of the Yearbook for giving me this opportunity to address a few words to the readers of this fine publication. Sometimes I feel guilty that tradition provides the principal with this space which might be put to better use. However, I have been ensured that this is a tradition the editors want maintained.

In a school like ours tradition plays an important role in defining our character.

This has been a significant year in the history of the school. It is our 115th year of operation, making us one of the oldest independent schools in Canada. During the year we have undergone successfully an evaluation by the Canadian Education Standards Institute. The visiting team from that accrediting group found us to be a thriving, caring and growing school. We knew that before they came; it was nice to have it verified.

For the first time in our history we had enrolled in the school 200 students. When I arrived ten years ago, the enrolment was near the 100 mark. This growth has convinced us that we must add to our facilities, and a building and fund raising campaign has commenced which we hope will see us with a new gymnasium, a new resource centre, a second playing field with track, three new classrooms and considerable improvements to existing areas by 1991.

On a personal level this my tenth year as principal has been a most happy one. I have sensed throughout this year a positive spirit in the school. I realize that each of us looks at school life differently and even differently on different days. Therefore not everyone will see the school the same way. But I will hold memories of 1988/89 filled with happy faces, numerous triumphs and a sense of solid accomplishment. I hope that all the readers of the Yearbook will experience similar feelings when they look through its pages in the years to come.

Dean's Message

Last year I wrote my message in the first term when I was new and had many surprises ahead of me. This year, as I write, there is less than a month left to the summer term and I have much to reflect upon. One of the aspects of life that we cherish at Trafalgar Castle is the "Family Atmosphere" present in the school. Some of you who doubt its presence forget perhaps that even living at home is not without its day to day problems, sibling squabbles, and disagreements with mom and dad. All that is typical here too, of course: run-ins with teachers, upsets with classmates or room-mates, and confrontations with the Dean at the front door past curfew! So in these ways we are a family - but if that is all there is to our family life there isn't much to recommend it is there? I think we are a family for much better reasons. I think of girls who came through the tower door in September for the first time; I think of girls who, as they have grown, have lived on many halls and who have spent more months here at Trafalgar than they have at home. I think of Mrs. Davis who has been an integral part of Trafalgar life for twenty years, and I think of Ms. Dyson who, after only one year, is leaving us to start a family of her own. It is interesting to watch how so many people from so many backgrounds come together in the fall term as strangers mostly leave in June as friends. How does it happen? You make it happen because you, as students, give so generously of yourselves. You bicker among your friends but you are there for them when they need you, you share the common and traditional experiences of school life; you prosper by your eagerness to learn in the classroom, on the playing field and on the halls. We sit down to eat together, we rejoice together, we share in each others sorrows. I think that is what makes us family. And we are the richer for it. Like a mother, I am sad to see you seniors graduate and leave "Home" for good, to begin new lives as young adults. But like a mother, I know I can not hold you back; indeed, I am proud to see you capable, so enthusiastic, so determined to put your personal stamp on the world. To those returning, I look forward to another year with you. To the graduates, do well and keep in touch. Finally I entreat you thus - try not to hurt anybody in your lives; I hope that you fall in love and "Don't worry, Be happy!"

Carmina, what are you smiling about?

Hey, no problem!

Trafalgar was privileged to honor the visit of Charlie Chaplin and Ghandi.

Darel, Tanya, Cindy N. and Cindy C.

Festival of Carols

A candlelight procession began a musical tribute to Christmas carols. The Choir, ensemble and school celebrated the diversity of the season's songs with traditional and modern tunes, folk melodies, and hymns. As well as soloists and speakers joined to bring the Christmas message to parents and friends of our school.

Christmas Dinner

Christmas dinner is a long standing tradition at T.C.S. It is held at the end of exams before we are dismissed for our Christmas Holidays. Everyone enjoys the festive spirit of the evening as we enjoy a turkey dinner and sing carols and of course we hear Mr. Kamcke's rendition of 'Twas The Night Before Christmas. Christmas dinner is also an opportunity for the girls from abroad to see how Canadians celebrate Christmas. It is a most enjoyable way to start our holidays.

Ski Day

Tin Yan and Angela radiate confidence and happiness as they rack their skis after an exhilarating morning on their favourite hill.

Joelle, Cyndi, and Kara and Janice only posed for this quick snap on the off chance a Hollywood agent might see this book.

Smiles on our group at left attest to their success on the hills and go to affirm their conviction that looking good is half the battle.

Clare Jarvis, a Bermuda resident, was so delighted with the snow that she didn't want to waste her time skiing on it when she could be immersed in it!

Our end-of-January excursion to Devil's Elbow Ski Resort near Lindsay is one of the social highlights of our school year. As we are lifted to the tops of the hills we forget our studies and our indoor confinement; our souls are cleansed by the icy winds; troubles are forgotten.

Novices are given lessons, intermediates hustle their friends to the chair lifts, and experts (of course we have experts!) head right for the 'Elbow' itself.

Often a winter dance back at Trafalgar finishes off this special day and girls fall easily to sleep in the wee hours of the morning.

House Swimmeet

The House Swimmeet is one of the many events in which the girls get to compete to accumulate points for their Houses. It is an enjoyable event. The girls compete in the four traditional events: frontcrawl, backstroke, breaststroke and butterfly. There is also a novelty relay at the end.

And it's Rushmi off to a flying start.

Do I really have to do this?

Natasha swimming the frontcrawl.

Ingrid doing the backstroke.

The crowd watches on with great enthusiasm.

Experience Week '89

Every March the school so generously gives us three days they call Educational Experience Week. It's great to get out of the class rooms for a while especially after the February Blues. This year we had many exciting trips. There was a trip to the South Pacific which touched three islands, Australia, New Zealand and Hawaii. For those who preferred something a little colder, there was a trip to the U.S.S.R. or skiing in Banff. If you didn't already know how to ski, there was a beginners' skiing trip also. These trips were longer and ran into the March Break but they were well worth it. For those who preferred to stay in the area, you had a choice between, helping at the Scott Mission, So you want to be a writer?, C.P.R. and First Aid, self defence, silver jewellery making, silk screening scarves and Drivers Education. No matter what you chose you were bound to learn something and have fun too.

A Memorable Year At Trafalgar

I arrived in Canada from Britain in September 1988, not quite sure what to expect of the coming year. In Britain, the majority of students leaving school take a year out before going on to University. I decided to apply for a placement in Canada on the GAP Program and was placed at Trafalgar Castle School as a GAP volunteer. Neither Trafalgar nor I knew exactly what my placement would entail. I soon found out: everything. I have never been involved in such a variety of activities and excursions in my life!

Within three weeks I had my first chance to try my hand at teaching. I taught Grade 9 Maths for a week, which I really enjoyed even though it was quite an experience as only two months previously I had been the student! Since then I have done a fair amount of Maths tutoring at various levels, the majority being junior. For the past few weeks I have also been teaching Drama to both Grade 9 classes. This has been great fun.

Along the lines of Drama I had a great four months helping to direct the school musical - "Guys and Dolls". This was an immense success, and as it turned out "I performed", as one of the cast members became ill. I was also the assistant co-ordinator for the Independent Schools Drama Festival which was held at Trafalgar. That was very hard work, but a valuable learning experience.

I was definitely kept fit all year as I coached the swim team, helped coach the midget basketball team, and taught some tennis. However, before I could assist the basketball team, I had to learn how to play! Consequently, I joined some Phys. Ed. lessons and had great fun. I also had the opportunity to play baseball for the first time, and I was able to see a Toronto Blue Jays game (they won).

One of the highlights of my year was participating in the Canadian/American OAC history course. This was a real insight for me as I learned about the country that I was living in, and also the United States. Partly due to this course I have changed my university plans and now intend to study political science instead of civil engineering. I aim to become the next female prime minister of Britain!

During the evenings and weekends I assisted the housemothers wherever necessary. This involved taking study hall and answering the phones amongst other things. I was also able to go to many places that I would otherwise not have been able to visit.

During the holidays I had the opportunity to do a lot of travelling. By the time I leave here I will have been from Montreal to Vancouver and down parts of the States. One of the highlights of my travels was accompanying one of the educational experience week groups when they went to Banff for a week of skiing. I was amazed by the beauty and splendor of the Rockies. They are incredible. However, as I have been unable to visit the Maritimes or Northern Canada I will return as soon as possible with the excuse of visiting these areas.

During my year here at Trafalgar I have made many great friends and learnt a lot. I have discovered my true self and changed in so many different ways that my family will not recognize me!

I would like to thank Trafalgar and my friends here, (especially Rushmi, Kelly and Tudi) for giving me this valuable opportunity to experience Canadian life. It has been a year that I will always cherish and never forget. I'll miss you all!

Ms. Adelaide.

The good fellows at the save a soul mission.

The school production for 1989 was Guys and Dolls, the well known musical. It was a difficult production to put on because it involved about 40 girls. But with the help of Mr. Kamcke and Shaney the show went on. The play was very entertaining. There was lots of singing, emotion and great sets. The star of the show was Carmina Chiappe who played Ms. Adelaide. Carmina's Brooklyn accent really stole the show. I'd like to congratulate everyone who was involved with the play. Your hard work really paid off.

House Mothers

Here on these pages are our devoted House Mothers. They have one of the toughest jobs in the whole school. They must cope with our homesickness; deal with our disagreements; motivate us to get up in the morning; listen to our complaining day after day; put up with our bad moods and so on. You have to be a courageous woman to take on such a task. Congratulations to all the House Mothers for making our days of boarding so pleasurable.

This year was very successful for our Track and Field team. There were great performances by everyone at D.Y.S.A. Especially by Lanique and Khalil who qualified for regionals. Lanique and Khalil both did well at Regionals and left with medals. Our school also did well at the I.S.A.A. Track Meet. We placed 4th out of seven schools.

Our annual formal dance was held on Saturday May 6th. It was an exciting evening for all. I must compliment the social committee on their excellent job at decorating the main hall. In all my years at Trafalgar this formal had one of the best turn outs. It was very nice to see everybody so nicely dressed and having a good time. The formal was a great success and I look forward to next years.

Senior Dinner

On Friday May 12th the whole school joined together to honor the senior class. It was a very touching evening hearing speeches and toasts by various members of the school. It is a night when most seniors first realize that they must be moving on away from Trafalgar. Senior dinner is a very emotional night, bringing old memories back and bringing on the fear and uncertainty of leaving. If you were not a senior this year you may not understand what I'm saying but your time will come.

May Day

Becoming May Queen this year was one of the greatest events of my school life here at T.C.S. I didn't really know what to do when Mr. Kamcke announced my name at Senior Dinner. (was it obvious?) What was expected of me became clear very quickly during the after lunch practices, but the real thing was nothing like the practices. Without the encouragement of my two beautiful princesses Darel and Tin Yan and all of my close friends here at school who knew my worries, I don't think I could have made it. From my nervousness at being on T.V. with Kara and Mr. McClure, to shyness at walking around the heart being looked at by all those people, I realized just how much I appreciated my friends. You made this all possible for me and I just want to say thank you for everything.

I also want to add a special note to my mom and dad for giving me the courage to overcome my accident and for making me the person I am. I love you guys and for parents you're pretty great.

Thank you for making my school year unforgettable.

Love Tudi

LONELY EVENING

It's that time of day again
Deep orange tints the sky,
blinding me with an eccentric glare.
I find myself all alone -
music filling my mind and then, the simple words of a melody - touching my heart, delving into the inner depths of my soul.....
Sweet music so treacherous, painful;
bitter-sweet, mocking.
Looking around, catching sight of a name engraved in Golden Gothics -
"Shakespeare" and his fairy-tales:
Romeos that exist in ancient Italian civilizations or in a wild imagination.....of invaluable content.
Those comforting words unspoken,
The emotion I can't respond to.....
because it's not there.
Diminishing light, fading colour
Darkness setting in.
Another sunset and life goes on.

Karyn Mathura

GOING CRAZY

When tomorrow seems like eternity
and all your dreams collapse
You can find comfort in your silence, being at peace and your mind at rest.
No crying will bring revelations,
no screaming can stop the pain
Perhaps thoughtful tranquillity can be the remedy to your struggle
No ear may hear your plea, no voice can help you through
The language is no longer spoken,
the thoughts are seldom revealed.
You are in your separate world
untouched from the outstretched hands.
You are the master of your fate
to die or to dare is your choice.
A simple pop of your own bubble
can bring you back to reality.
People are there if you need them,
all you have to do is ask.

Track And Field Day

Winnie gets ready to throw the javelin.

On June 2nd at 1 PM we left out classes and changed into our gym uniforms and got psyched up to compete in the annual Trafalgar Track and Field Day. It was a beautiful sunny day with a light breeze and it was nice to be outside instead of in a classroom. Track and Field Day is a House competition and the points the girls accumulate by winning go towards winning the coveted Trafalgar Cup. There are numerous track events for the girls to join and next year we hope to hold these events on the new track.

The Office Staff

The role of the office staff is to ensure that Trafalgar runs smoothly from an administrative point of view. The ladies in the office are in charge of blue bills, budgets, enrolment, school supplies, late library books and noisy study halls. Sometimes these jobs do not seem very important to the students and the office staff does not get the recognition they deserve. So, we would like to thank you all for a wonderful year.

Mrs. Guidos, our Administrative Assistant.

Mrs. Duckett, principal's secretary.

Mrs. Williams, Receptionist.

Nurses

A very special thanks goes out to Denis and his gang for fixing all the things that seem to always be breaking down. And to Mrs. Smith and her girls for keeping our tummies full and our castle clean. And last but not least our nurses for keeping us in the pink

The Grad

This year the graduation ball was held on June 16th at the Delta Chelsea Inn. It was a wonderful evening. We enjoyed a great dinner with a few short but excellent speeches afterwards. Then we proceeded to dance the night away. Towards the end of the night emotions were running high as we all realized that this was the last time we could get together before we all went our separate ways. Hopefully everyone in the senior class will join the alumni and we will all be able to keep in touch. The grad was a fitting ending to the year, a night that everyone who was there will remember.

Editorial

Putting the yearbook together for the last two years has taught me a lot about myself. At times this can be a very frustrating job trying to get grad write-ups in on time and ruining numerous rolls of film, but once the book is published I let out a huge sigh of relief and an enormous sense of accomplishment runs through me. Then I sit back, go through the yearbook and remember all the wacky wonderful times I had the previous year. I hope you will all be able to look through the book and have its pages evoke some wonderful memories for you. I'd like to point out to people that the addresses in the back of the book are there for a reason. So please keep in touch! I have been at Trafalgar for a lifetime. And I'd just like to leave this thought for the people returning to T.C.S. and those just arriving. Trafalgar is an old school and has its faults just as everything does. One of the favourite pass times at T.C.S. seems to be to criticize it. But do not dwell on the negative. Trafalgar has a lot to offer but only to those who can see these opportunities and can make the best of them. Life is what you make it and so is your stay at Trafalgar. Good Luck.
